men were going up and down a stairway leading to rooms in Chillicothe. An investigation disclosed that a mysterious stranger was selling whiskey and beer in these rooms. When the sheriff and police secured a warrant for his arrest the bird had flown and has not yet been located.

A. M. Shelton, county clerk of Livingston, had a narrow escape from being seriously burned in an explosion that occurred in his office at the courthouse in Chillicothe Friday morning. A telephone lineman working in the office was using a gasoline soldering machine. The gasoline leaked, and Shelton's hair and eyebrows were burned.

Dr. Wm. H. Perry, recently of Chillicothe, he of the "great heart throbs" who figured in a sensational divorce suit in that city some months ago, when it was discovered that this prominent churchman and leading citizen was enamored of his former office girl, moved his office furniture from Chillicothe last week. He had been unable to secure any of his property before on account of his lawyer's fees remaining unpaid and execution issued and a levy made against him by Mrs. Perry.

MARRIAGES.

John Triplett and Miss Leona Wilson, both of Chillicothe.

Samuel C. Richeson of Bogard and Miss Anna Wells of Chula.

John W. Higgins of Sioux City, Ia., and Miss Ona C. Lowey of Chillicothe.

MACON.

Harry M. Rubey of Macon will start July 6 for an automobile tour to Minneapolis.

The clay around Clarence is to be tested by the American Clay Co. of Ohio in the manufacture of drain tile, fire brick and paving brick. If it comes up to expectations the company will open a plant at Clarence.

Theron Dorrell of Clarence, who was reported killed in a railroad wreck in California Thursday, is alive and well. A man who had one of Dorrell's business cards in his pocket was killed, hence the error.

Abram Hershey, who is in jail at Macon for burglary near La Plata, wants out of jail. The sheriff has received a number of letters from Polk, O., Hershey's home, telling what a model Sunday-school lad he is and that he had never been guilty of misdemeanor before.

Saturday evening early an altercation occurred between Weiber McCampbell, a negro, and Frank Bumps, a white lad in Macon. It was in the opera-house, and the manager, Will Sears, ordered them outside. Some one threw a brick that struck Sears. His nose was split, three teeth knocked out and eight stitches were required to close a wound in his hip. Bumps and McCampbell were arrested and fined for fighting.

The structural steel work in the tower tank for Macon's new water works system is rapidly nearing completion. The tank is being installed by the Des Moines Bridge & Iron works. It is a ponderous structure of thick steel plates riveted together and supported by four immense lattice columns on a foundation of reinforced concrete. The complete tank will total the enormous weight of 84,000 pounds. The work is under the efficient supervision of the city's consulting engineer, Bert G. Allen.

The Boone-Baldwin Pioneer Gold Mining Co. at New Cambria stopped sinking its shaft deeper Monday at a depth of 140 feet. Of this depth beginning at 24 feet below the surface of the ground 116 feet carries mineral, 99 feet giving assays of from $2.15 to $4.50 per ton in gold and silver. The last 17 feet is in the vein proper but not through it. With so much ore in sight it was thought best to stop sinking; any deeper until it can be done with power-driven drills at much less expense. Thorough tests will now be made to determine which of the several ore formations can be made to pay the best and quickest profits in working with the least expense for machinery. As soon as this is decided, a mill will be built and operations in mining will begin in earnest.—Macon Republican.

MARRIAGES.

Edward Jones and Miss Fannie Strong, both of Ardmore.

S. J. Job and Miss Mary Ridings, both of Clarence.

Victor Riley and Miss Maggie Thomas, both of Bevier.

Mrs. Noel P. McDaniel, 22 years old, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Frank Clayton, near Miami, Friday.

Edward Haworth's house in Miami caught fire Monday from papers in a flue. It was discovered in time to prevent much damage.

A. L. Wilhite of Slater found a unique looking hen egg Tuesday. It was dark purple in color. That hen must have been drinking diamond dye.

John R. Cason, a native of Mississippi, 66 years old, a veteran of the civil war, formerly sheriff of Saline county, died Tuesday at the Confederate home in Higginsville.

The Marshall Democrat-News had quite a nice article on "Our City and County" in last week's issue. In this brief review of Marshall and Saline county, mention was made of some of the most prominent business firms.

The store of Rose & Buckner, in Slater was broken into Monday night by some unknown person who appropriated a new suit of clothes and the best valise in the store. A broken window pane afforded a means of entrance.

MARRIAGES.

Gus Bacon of Kansas City and Miss Pauline Oets of Slater.

O. H. Albright of Waverly and Miss Ella Ross of Kansas City.

Lester Mull of Marshall and Miss Emma Hasemeier of Napton.

Frank Riggins and Miss Birdie Bell Dennis, both of Marshall.
